OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

PATIENCE IS A VIRTUE that motorists who travel the Campbell-Bascom construction area must cultivate--or go nuts.

Despite the speed in which pavements and curbs are installed these days and in spite of the valiant efforts of the contractors to keep traffic flowing, motorists traversing the construction areas are bound to be inconvenienced.

But things could be worse.

It could rain for instance.

That hasn't happened... yet.

Or traffic signals could foul up.

That has happened.

We know.

We were caught in such a situation the other day at the Bascom-Campbell intersection.

Somehow the signal that shoves eastbound traffic onto Bascom Ave., wasn't activated for a couple rounds.

The line formed on Campbell Ave., clear past Union Ave.

Some frustrated individuals after watching the light change for the north-south Bascom traffic a couple of times while they just sat there, pulled out of line, made a u-turn and headed back the way they had come.

Except for a couple of daring souls who sneaked onto Bascom while the red was still on, the rest of us just waited it out.

Counting to ten all the time of course.

Sure enough the signal made it about the third time around.

But it was quite exasperating for those of us who, unfortunately, have to use Bascom and didn't have any choice in the matter.

ADEQUATE WARNING signs have been posted throughout the construction area, indicating that things are not quite normal.

The signs read:

"ALTERNATE ROUTE ADVISABLE - PROCEED AT YOUR OWN RISK."

We would say that covers the situation quite well.

Perhaps the message is a little too brief.

But then again who needs details when one is trail-blazing.

THOSE WARNING SIGNS, "alternate route advisable", in capsule form really sum up the conclusions that have been reached in most of the costly traffic surveys that have been conducted for the area.

That brings to mind that the Planning Commission public hearing on the plan line for the proposed north loop street (295-feet) north of Campbell Ave.) many objections were raised by residents in the affected area.

One party suggested that Campbell Ave., should be closed off to through traffic altogether.

When asked where would the east-west traffic go, he suggested Hamilton Ave.

Apparently he hadn't been on that street during peak traffic hours lately.

Anyway this alternate route bit set us to thinking a little about our own particular case. What WAS an alternate route to our home, in case we had to use one.

Although we are less than a mile from the office, trying to avoid traffic via an alternate route would be purely for the birds.

And we mean just that.

The birds maybe could find a way.

ALL RIGHT, SMARTIES, how many alternate routes do you think you have in getting to your homes?

We finally did figure out how we could make it home by an alternate route avoiding a construction area as well as heavy traffic.

Of course, we might have

College-city officials to meet next Tuesday; Advisory committee suggests Campbell campus

Parking, "temporary" status head agenda for joint session

Campbell city officials will meet with the governing board and staff members of West Valley College on Tuesday, Oct. 7 to discuss the vexing problem of on-and-off-street parking relating to the college.

In addition, the city officials hope to be able to discuss with board members just what the future holds for the temporary Campbell campus.

The meeting is at 7:30 p.m. in the board room at the college.

Members of both the City Council and the Planning Commission are expected to participate in this joint session with the college trustees.

City officials have long been concerned over the indiscriminate parking tactics of West Valley College students who apparently favor the use of residential and business streets as parking areas rather than the college-maintained off-street parking lot between Rincon and Campbell Ave.

City officials have attempted in the past to ascertain some time table as to how long the temporary status of the Campbell campus is going to be maintained, now that the Saratoga campus is under construction.

West Valley College now has begun its sixth year in the quarters of the former Campbell Grammar School between Campbell and Latimer avenues, and, as yet, no time has been announced as when any "phasing out" will begin or if it is contemplated.

City spokesmen point out that the occupation of the downtown site by the college on an indefinite basis has made future planning for the city a formidable task.

At the present time, the city has embarked on a redevelopment program for an area from Winchester to the railroad tracks, plus the Gilman-Dillon-Railway area, and between Latimer and Kennedy.

The temporary college campus is a key section in any planning program that can be developed for this area.

City people recognize, however, that the failure of three college district bond issues to pass has made it difficult for the governing board of the college district to establish any definite phasing out program.

However, city officials have indicated in the past their willingness to cooperate with the college district, provided they can obtain some determination as to what is planned for Campbell in the future.

The city would like the college board to specify just what part, if any, Campbell will play in any future development of the West Valley College.

Another bond issue for the district is scheduled for next year and the advisory committee to the college board has recommended that the development of the downtown Campbell site be included in the bond proposal.

Bond issue would specify "downtown" site development

That the downtown campus in Campbell should be purchased and developed on a limited scale is one of the provisions in the recommendation that has been made by the West Valley College Advisory Committee to the governing board of the junior college district.

The advisory committee in a three-hour study session last week reviewed the suggestions presented for the bond issue election which is tentatively scheduled for next spring.

The committee by a unanimous vote then decided that the downtown Campbell site should take precedence over the acquisition of the so-called southern site for a campus.

It was explained that the proposed 125-acre southern campus would not be needed to accommodate the enrollment for the next 10 years, provided that the Saratoga campus is completed and the Mission campus in Santa Clara is acquired and partially developed.

The purchase of the downtown Campbell site and construction of central administrative offices, classrooms and warehouse facilities was classified as a "safety valve" by one committee member.

Although the advisory group decided not to recommend the total amount that should be included in the bond package, it was estimated that the four parts to the proposed bond issue would total approximately $29 million.

Committee members felt, however, that the governing board, which has the final say in the matter, should first carefully examine the cost figures before setting the amount.

The committee also suggested that the bond election be held at the same time as the June primary in 1970.

According to the presentation made to the advisory committee, a $29 million bond issue would require a 24-cent hike in the district tax rate.

The recommendation submitted to the board specifies that the Saratoga campus be completed. That would include a warehouse, library, offices, a P.E. and humanities and fine arts building.

It suggests that acquisition of 126-acres for the Mission campus and construction of five buildings on that campus;

Western Gravel property

Mobile homes transform creek

Much of the area along Los Gatos Creek formerly occupied by an old-line Campbell firm, "Western Gravel", long a mainstay in the community's industrial picture will be converted to a mobile home park, according to applications before the Planning Commission next Monday, Oct. 6.

Leo Freschi, who has had a park approved for the southern portion of the Western Gravel property with access onto Camden Ave. through a lot that was purchased, is seeking approval for extension of the mobile park site on property located east of the railroad track and adjoining the previously approved parcel.

"Western Gravel" which is now consolidated with "Conmat", for years was the leading industry in town, providing a substantial financial aid to the city in its early years through the sales tax returns.

A subdivision request for Western Gravel lands is also on the agenda.

The Planning Commission next Monday is also scheduled to act on the landscape plan for the mobile park. Approval of the landscaping must precede the issuance of a building permit.

Up before the Commission next Monday also will be the prezoning question of properties on the north side of Apricot Ave. now in the process of being annexed to the city.

At a previous meeting, (Sept. 15) the Commission deferred action because of some misunderstanding over the type of zoning the property owners desired.

Back also for possible Commission action is the question of what to do about the landlocked parcel adjacent to the Winchester Drive-In Theater.

School district board may set "family life" policy on Oct. 23

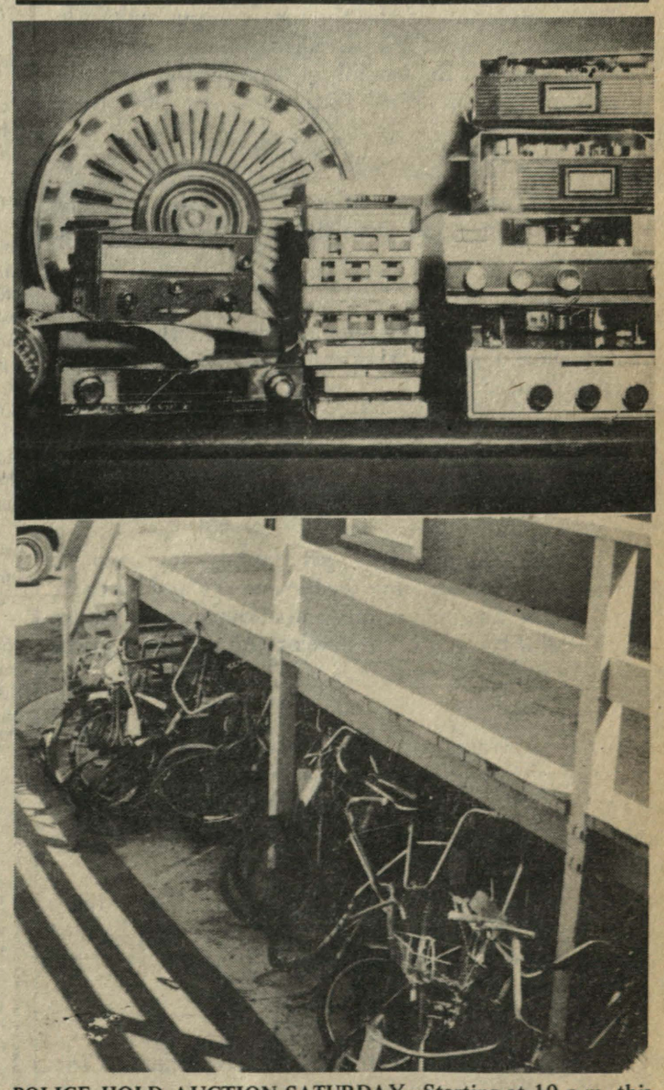
Campbell Union (elementary) School District trustees are expected to formulate their policy on the controversial Family Life Education program at their meeting scheduled for October 23.

The meeting will be held at the Campbell Elementary School multi-purpose room on Cherry Lane.

The meeting, which is open to the public, will convene at 7 p.m.

On Sept. 22 the trustees listened for over three hours as concerned parents both for and against the FLE course presented their views to the trustees.

A trustee meeting scheduled for Oct. 9 will not be concerned with the FLE program, but will be open to the public. The Oct. 9 meeting will be held at the administration building on North Third Street.



POLICE HOLD AUCTION SATURDAY--Starting at 10 a.m. this Saturday, Oct. 4, the Campbell Police Department, under the experienced direction of Capt. Don Burr, the department holds one of its semi-annual auctions of unclaimed property accumulated over the past six months.

In addition to 20 bikes that will go on the block, tape recorders, tapes, radios and other auto accessories (top photo) will be sold in the parking lot at the rear of city hall, 75 N. Central.

Editorial

The way to go

If the governing board of the West Valley Junior College District follows the recommendation of the Advisory Committee of the district, the bond issue for the district next year will include funds for the development of the so-called downtown Campbell campus.

Based on the projection in enrollment and other factors, we are convinced that this is a logical step to take.

The bond issue election, under the law, must be held next year. It is important that the contents of the bond package must be practical as well as political.

Three times in the past years (since 1964) bond elections have failed in the district.

The failure of the issues to pass obviously have handicapped the district in its efforts to develop adequate facilities for the students in the district.

We recognize that bond issues involve politics and that in the past there were intra-district problems that could have been a factor in the failure at the polls.

Therefore it is imperative that any future bond issue that is presented to the people must be free of intra-district friction and must approach the problem in a practical and logical manner.

Passing bond measures by the necessary two-thirds majority is not an easy task even when there is a united front.

Obviously the junior college district does exist now and that it has become a necessary and integral part of the educational system of the area. Therefore it follows that there has to be adequate financing for the educational facilities that are needed.

And bond funds are almost the only means available to obtain these facilities.

Granted that the need for bond financing in the district then does exist, it is also necessary that the bond package that is presented to the voters approaches the problem realistically.

We think that the recommendation presented by the Advisory Committee does just that.

If the governing body of the district follows that recommendation, the voters will then have a sound development plan before them.

The inclusion of the Campbell campus in the bond package makes sense to us.

The "temporary" campus here is now operating in its sixth year and will continue for many years to come whether it is "phased out" in any conceivable manner with or without the passage of a bond issue.

It seems practical then to change "temporary" into "permanent". That, in effect, is what the proposed bond issue could do.

It also seems logical to us to eliminate funds for the proposed site acquisition for the "southern campus" from any bond package that is presented.

Projections for a 10-year period show that no development of the so-called southern campus will be necessary in that period in order to adequately take care of the projected enrollment of the district.

The completion of the Saratoga campus and a partial development of the so-called Mission campus in Santa Clara will do the job of housing the students, plus the "safety-valve" feature of the downtown Campbell campus.

The Advisory Committee did not stipulate the amount of the bond issue that will be presented to the voters.

Committee members indicated that the college board should review the estimated figures that had been presented.

Indications are, however, that the bond package will be in the neighborhood of $29 million.

That would include enough money to complete the Saratoga campus, acquire the acreage and partially develop the Mission campus and allow approximately $2,500,000 to be used to develop the so-called downtown Campbell campus.

What convinces us that this recommendation of the Advisory Committee is a sensible approach to the situation is that trying to project further than 10-years ahead in this ever-changing area is a dangerous pastime.

We are convinced that in the next decade there will be some radical changes made in every phase of the educational picture, especially in the field of the community colleges.

Thus it seems to us that the Saratoga, Santa Clara and Campbell campuses can be defended under present conditions, or that of the immediate future.

If there has to be a bond issue...and there seems to be no way out of it...in our opinion, that is the way to go.

ACCORDING TO ONE businessman on S. Bascom the street construction project has not slackened one particular phase of his daily business routine, although the temporary ingress and egress routes to his establishment presents a challenge to one and all.

This businessman asked a salesman who was calling on him to explain a phenomena that was occurring.

"How come", he gloomly wanted to know, "that although my customers are staying away in droves because of roadwork, you salesmen have no trouble getting through.?

There is a moral there some place, if you can find it.

OUR STANDING INVITATION to send us questions about the community for which we would make an attempt to dig out the answers, brought in another query this past week.

Here is what E. Ann Cole, of 948 Steinway, asks in a letter to us:

"I have been living in Campbell for five months and here is a question that bothers me no end.

"WHY IN A TOWN OF 24,000 ARE THERE NO CITY BUSES?

"I mean the kind that go hither and yon at stated intervals. There are two or three senior citizen organizations in Campbell who will, when they get the necessary transportation, gladly take older people shopping or to the doctor.

"But even older people do not live on bread and medicine alone. I'd like to spend a leisurely day in Campbell just to see what the downtown consists of. I'd like to visit the library quite often; I'd love to see the new, to me, St. Lucy's Church and since I am a retired country printer, I'd really like to see your plant.

"I really don't understand how a town the size of Campbell can be without buses."

Her concluding paragraph had nothing to do with the transportation question but we liked it; it has a nice ring to it:

"However there is no question about the fact that I enjoy your paper and, especially, "Out on a Limb".

BUT BACK TO THE ANswering board - and why no city buses.

To begin with there does exist a franchised bus line that has long served this area. The prime objective, of course, is to transport passengers into downtown San Jose.

The service, of course, is totally inadequate for the local scene and Peerless Lines probably would be the first to admit that. (There are two pickups in the morning at First and Campbell.)

Obviously, then, that does not answer the question.

Not quite as obvious is the fact that a city can't go into the bus business without a mandate from the people, for it means a substantial financial subsidization, for bus lines are not noted as profit-makers.

Proposition A in the recent county bond election, which was defeated, would have put the county in the bus line business, but it still would not have helped the local situation to any degree.

BUT NOW MEMBERS OF the West Valley Senior Action Center, under Mrs. Clara Gregg, as transportation chairman, are seeking to establish a mini-bus system (using a station wagon) patterned after the Menlo Park plan that serves the senior citizens in that area.

The center is seeking federal funds for the project and also hopes to get some assistance from the city.

We really believe this mini-bus system will become a reality eventually.

It may not be a city bus line exactly but it certainly sounds like it is what our reader is looking for.

Next question, please.

FOR THE NEXT THREE issues guest columnists (?) will take over "out on the limb".

The "stable" of filler-inners is quite impressive.

Bob Stephens, city manager, comes to bat on Oct. 8.

Neal Royer, school superintendent and CofC president, shoots on Oct. 15.

Dale Scott, planning commissioner, tax association executive and probable candidate for county assessor, tries his hand on Oct. 22.

Have fun!

The theater people desire a zone change in order to install a third screen.

Called officially "Study Area No. 2 of the McGlincey Neighborhood District", the Commission in July recommended no zone change.

The matter was referred back to the Commission by the City Council to allow the theater people to present a detailed traffic pattern plan for the proposed third screen layout.

The Commission is also slated to modify the open space element of the master plan, especially as it affects the area in the vicinity of Rincon Park.

The park area recently acquired by the city as a result of the bond election on June 10 is still zoned for multiples.

On the agenda also for next Monday is a zone change request of Vito Agriesti who wants to change the present R-1 zoning on his properties at 880 and 890 E. Campbell to P-O (professional office) and at 891 and 892 Michael Drive to R-3-S.

Rolland L. Bruntz is also asking for approval of plans for an 8-unit apartment at 1305 and 1319 W. Campbell Ave.

In making the recommendation for the Campbell campus development, the committee members did not specify the type of buildings that would be built. Considerable discussion, however, took place over the possibility that a high-rise classroom center could eventually be constructed.

Dale Scott, a member of the Campbell Planning Commission and who is scheduled also to become a member of the college advisory committee, explained that it could be possible for the college and city to cooperate with the federal government in a redevelopment program for the downtown area that is now under way.

Scott added that this could mean that the downtown campus could be expanded eastward and not confined to the 12-acre temporary site used for the past six years.

Although no definite price tag was placed on the present Campbell campus, it was estimated that it could be acquired for $1 million and with $1.5 million for development.

Mr. and Mrs. Vierhus wed in double ring ceremony

MRS. RICHARD VIERHUS

Highland's Inn in Carmel-by-the-Sea was the destination of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Michail Vierhus following their wedding held Sept. 13 in the First Immanuel Lutheran Church in San Jose.

The new Mrs. Vierhus is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Tanner of Wyrick Avenue, Campbell. A graduate of James Lick High School, she is presently engaged in student teaching from San Jose State College.

For her wedding dress Sharon chose a dress styled in the empire line, with a high mandarin collar covered with Venise lace which also fashioned the top of the full sheer sleeves ending in lace cuffs.

The full skirt was softly gathered in back with a chapel train attached with a large bow.

A white rose and stephanotis bouquet centered on a lace covered prayer book was carried by the bride, and a four tiered elbow length illusion veil was held in place with a crown of Venise lace petals edged with pearls and rhinestones.

For her attendants Sharon chose Mrs. Daniel Hendry as her matron of honor; Miss Mary Renee Tanner, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid and Miss Joan Marie Tanner, sister of the bride, as junior bridesmaid.

All of the attendants were gowned alike in floor length dresses of deep rose fashioned Jonathan Logan style. The headpieces were fashioned from the same material and color and all wore shoes of the same shade of deep rose. Nosegay bouquets of deep red roses, greens and baby's breath with pink ribbon streamers completed the bridal attendants attire.

Mrs. Tanner chose a pink tunic suit with pink and pearl grey accessories for her daughters wedding complimented with a white orchid corsage with pink ribbons.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Conrad Vierhus of Blossom Hill Road in Los Gatos. A graduate of Leigh High School and San Jose State College, he is presently taking post graduate work at the college and is also employed at the college.

Daniel Hendry, a friend of the young couple, served Rick as best man while the guests were ushered by the groom's brother, Jack C. Vierhus and Jack's son, the Messer Michael Vierhus, who served as junior usher.

White flowers adorned the altar where the double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. H. P. Schroeder, pastor emeritus. Wedding selections "Oh Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer" preceded the exchange of vows.

The groom's mother wore a light teal blue matching dress and coat with matching accessories enhanced by a white orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony the newly-weds greeted their guests at the parish hall which was decorated with pink, white and deep rose colors. The pink and white five-tiered wedding cake was cut by the bride and groom and a champagne fountain filled the glasses of the guests and of the bride and groom for the toast by the best man to the newly-weds.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Vierhus are now making their home in San Jose near the San Jose State College campus.

"Senior" must file by Oct. 15 for tax refund

October 15 is the deadline for Senior Citizens to file claims for a refund on their 1968-69 property taxes, according to Martin Huff, executive officer of the Franchise Tax Board.

The State program refunds a portion of the property taxes paid by persons 65 years of age or older who have low incomes. The money received under this program never has to be repaid and no liens are filed on the claimant's property, he said.

To be eligible for Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance, claimants must be over 65 years of age as of Jan. 1, 1969, must own and occupy their own home, must have paid the property taxes on the home, and must have a total household income of less than $3,350.

Qualified individuals can obtain claim forms from any office of the Franchise Tax Board or by writing to Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance, P. O. Box 1588, Sacramento, Calif. 95807.

Huff indicated that qualified senior citizens are entitled to both the $70 payment under the Homeowners Property Tax Assistance on the tax paid in excess of the $70. To receive Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance, a claim must be filed each year with the Franchise Tax Board, Huff said.

Last week marked the election of the fall class officers. The voting was done in the classrooms so most everyone had the opportunity to vote. The senior officers elected were Ellen Greenberg, president; Sandy Martin, vice-president; Janie McDonall, secretary; and Candy Davison, treasurer.

Junior class officers are Carl Stokes, president; Beverly Fouts, vice-president; Beth Danahy, secretary; and Terri Bullian, treasurer.

The sophomores elected Jim Coglianese, president; Sindy McKay, vice-president; Nancy Mitchell, secretary; and Melanie Fujishin, treasurer.

My apologies to the freshman class. Your officers' names will appear in next week's article or as soon as I can find someone who knows who they are.

Everyone knows by now about the football games we played last week. The frosh-soph team was on the alert, and captured Lincoln, 28-6. The varsity played their round, too, and won't let their defeat by one point knock their spirit.

The varsity will be on the field this Friday against Del Mar on Del Mar's field. The frosh-soph will battle Del Mar on Thursday at Campbell. Come out to see the games and support your teams.

Although the Buccaneer band did not perform a half-time show, they did play pregame last Friday. Fronting the band this year are the letter girls, Rochelle Terranova, Janice Miyakawa, Barbara Swisher, Sue Dent, Elsbeth Schwarz, Sandy Spivey, Belinda Tanno, Jean Harris, Pam Hughes and the head, Sharon Burns.

If you haven't yet joined a commission, then look through the following list of commissions and their commissioners. There may be one for you. They are: Art, Ken Hegstrom; Boy's Athletic Insurance, Doug Campell; Drama, Sue Gerrells and Sally Poulsen; Girl's Athletics–Renee Nooteboom; Literary Affairs, Ellen Greenberg, Music, David Roach; Photography, Ed Glick; Publicity, Cindy Harris; Sales, Elaine Beaman; Social Affairs, Sue Hovland; Utilities, Howard Rogers; Speech and Debate, Steve Borsgard; and Spirit, Nancy Labrador.

Other commissions with unnamed commissioners are Boy's Athletics, Awards, Finance, Records and School Affairs.

High school youth film forum rates advance showing of film

Student representatives from seven Campbell High School District schools attended an advance showing Saturday of the film, "Me, Natalie", starring Patty Duke, as members of the first forum of the Peninsula Adult-Youth Film Forum sponsored by the El Paradiso Council, (P.T.A.).

The film, shown Saturday in the Plaza Theater in Campbell, is the first of a series of monthly previews, and is the third area in the nation to give students a voice in film ratings. The Campbell representatives were joined by students from other high schools and teen-age clubs.

Immediately after the film, the students formed into groups to discuss the main points of the film as suggested by Richard Rendler, guest moderator. Rendler is the Adult Services librarian for the San Jose City library system.

Anyone interested in joining the film council may contact Mrs. Joseph Baker, 1957 Curtner Ave. The program is approved by the school authorities, local theaters and the P.T.A.

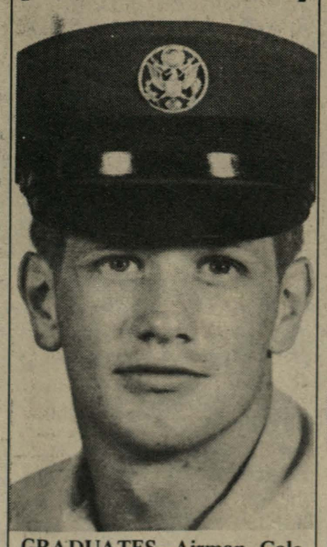
Participating in the forum from Campbell High School were Edward Keegan, Robert Hambelton, Jeff Wilson, Denise Lelucchi, Leslie Chow and Marilyn Bodle.

From Prospect High School were Rachael Marr, Cathy Metcalf, Lisa Colby, Ed Church, Brad Davis and Mike Gray. Del Mar representatives were Craig Kennedy, Paul Ryan, Mary Jane Chalmers, Jackie Kulveage, Sam Abela and Kathy Davis.

Jerry Kerner, Becky Sowler, Virginia Nola, Rich Murdock, Sue Murray and Marva Jackson were from Branham while Sandy Snow, Kathy Durbin, Sue Mullins, Tim Wood, Bill Whilton and Judy Milbourn attended as Camden High School representatives.

Forum members from Westmont High School were Bob Piper, Denise Fredrick, Mark Phillips, Dave Feil and Allan Hauck. Attending from Blackford were Paul Ryden, Craig Bonner, Dorothy Duder, Randy Santo, Janis Yoshihara and Vickie Nearlesky.

Service Notes



GRADUATES---Airman Gale A. Faulkner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien O. Faulkner of 42 Hunt Way, Campbell, has graduated with honors at Sheppard AFB, Tex., from the training course for U.S. Air Force aircraft mechanics.

Airman Faulkner, a 1969 graduate of Campbell High School, is being assigned to Travis AFB, Calif., for duty with a unit of the Military Airlift Command.

OVERWHELMING SUCCESS---It took a police officer to help direct the traffic in and out of McDonald's restaurant at Fruitdale and Bascom Avenues Saturday afternoon. The occasion was a personal appearance by the McDonald's famous clown, "Ronald McDonald" advertised in the Campbell Press last Wednesday. At times, the crowd was so large it overflowed the restaurant's own parking lot, another lot adjoining, as well as both sides of the streets for several blocks in either direction. In photo above, the popular clown is shown (arrow) on platform toward rear of crowd as kiddies march by to greet him.

Prospect Pulse

by IVALEE INGRAHAM

First league football game for Prospect this year will be this week. Frosh-Soph will clash with Westmont Thursday on our home field at 3:30. Friday the Panthers meet the Warriors at Westmont at 3:30. Prospect's only Varsity win last year was against Westmont, and Prospect students are looking forward to a repeat this year.

Prospect Faculty boasts 12 new teachers this year. The English department gained the most new teachers. The five newcomers are Miss Diane Dailey, Mrs. Eugenia Jones, Mrs. Marie Jones, Mrs. Bonnie Phelps and Miss Janice Schott.

New Spanish teachers are Mr. Jose Figueiredo and Mrs. Marcy Magnusson. Other new teachers are Mr. Samuel Espeseth, choir and orchestra; Mr. Robert Gates, U.S. History; Mr. Panos Rallis, math; Miss Claudia Udd, world civilization; and Mr. Barry Woodhead, P.E. coach.

Fifteen-year-old Hajo Reissmann is one of Prospect's foreign exchange students this year. Hajo comes from Germany, and is staying with junior Doug Kolsky's family.

Sept. 26 an assembly was held in the plaza after lunch. President Steve Shoemaker introduced candidates running for Student Council, and the candidates gave campaign speeches. One Freshman, one Sophomore and one Junior will be elected to serve for the first semester. Running are Freshmen Juanaca Green and Julie Palmquist, Sophomores Ed Cotter and Priscilla Worthington, and Junior Ross Meinhold.

The assembly was also a spirit rally, with the Frosh-Soph and Varsity cheerleaders leading the students in cheers and the song girls doing a dance.

Camden Chatter

DEBBIE UNDERWOOD

Camden kicked off its first football games of the year with non-league Overfelt High on the Cougar field. The frosh/soph contest proved a victorious one with the baby Cougars dumping the Overfelt Royals 44-0.

Lots of spirit prevailed at last Friday's varsity match. Camden rooters hailed their team on, but the varsity men let us down with a defeating score of 20-6. Much anticipation and spirit is going into our first league games of the season with Branham this Thursday and Friday. Let's go, Cougars!

Student body card sales were held in a different manner this year, as compared to the previous years. A designated day was set aside for all students interested in purchasing their ASB cards for $8. Fifth period teachers handled the sales in their classes. Sales were good this year with approximately 65% of the student body buying cards.

Camden's foreign exchange student this year is Elizabeth Sampson from the Philippines. Elizabeth is presently taking American / Comparative government, P.E., trigonometry, English literature, chemistry and Spanish I. She comes to us from a convent school where the atmosphere was a strict and formal one. She loves Camden because "it has more life and more action". Camden is very proud to have Elizabeth a part of our student body this year. Welcome!!

Class opens for students working for 8th grade diploma

Do you have an 8th grade diploma?

Does your mother have an 8th grade diploma?

Does your aunt, your niece, your father, husband or neighbor have one?

Or, like so many, were there circumstances which kept them from completing school?

Metropolitan Adult Education Program, recognizing this, has instituted a program which makes it possible for everyone to enroll in the classes which will make this achievement possible.

Mrs. Ruth Lindstrom, a counselor for MAEP, is available to advise students, thus enabling them to obtain better jobs, obtain citizenship, take vocational training, learn homemaking and parent education and to prepare them to advance into the high school program.

Day or evening classes in English, math, social studies and basic education are available at local centers, according to Mrs. Lindstrom, who may be reached at 295-9331.

Those who complete their diploma are honored with a ceremony at the close of the school year.

Those interested in other local programs may obtain information at the local MAEP center, 124 W. Latimer, Campbell, 379-8550.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Here's one of the most fascinating football stories of all-time... Perhaps you know it, perhaps you don't... Back in 1942, Boston College was the number one team in the country... They were undefeated going into the last game with Holy Cross... They were heavily favored, and made reservations to hold a victory celebration after the game at a place called the Coconut Grove . . . However, in one of the greatest upsets in football history, Holy Cross not only beat Boston, but they beat them by the unbelievable score of 55-12... The crushed Boston College officials naturally cancelled the 'Victory' party... Then, that night the Coconut Grove burned in one of the worst disasters in history with 492 people losing their lives... The Boston College football players all might have been killed except for the fact that they lost a football game that afternoon. . . Fate plays strange tricks, doesn't it?

Did you know that in the old day of football, the coaches didn't want their players to wear numbers on their uniforms... They thought it would be better if everybody - - opponents and fans - - were confused about who was carrying the ball...

Now at home in Berkeley

The First United Methodist Church in Campbell was the setting for the recent wedding ceremony uniting Mary Barbara Beyer and Philip Harold Agee. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. William Gould and the Rev. Dorothy Kimbrell.

For her wedding day Mary chose a gown of ivory silk organza over peau de soie, trimmed with Venise lace. She carried a mixed bouquet of garden flowers, and a lace handkerchief belonging to her grandmother.

Garden flower nosegays of pink and white were carried by the bride's attendants who were gowned alike in pink voile with a wedding ring design embossed in velvet. Mrs. Russell Bearrows served as matron of honor with Mrs. Carl Carey and Miss Lari Lopp as the bridesmaids.

The new Mrs. Agee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Beyer, formerly of Campbell now living in St. Paul, Minnesota. Mr. and Mrs. Beyer returned to Campbell to give their daughter in marriage. Mrs. Beyer chose a light turquoise dress for the occasion, enhanced by a pink rose corsage.

Mary attended Campbell schools, before studying at the University of California at Davis, and the University of Minnesota. She is now completing her studies at the University of California at Berkeley.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orvis Agee and attended the University of California at Davis. He is now attending the University of California at Berkeley. John Abele served his friend as best man with James Beyer and Kevin Keck ushering the guests to their seats.

Lawrence McCommas sang several wedding selections accompanied by Mrs. Jan Grodeon at the organ.

A pink dress with a white rose corsage was chosen by Mrs. Agee for her son's wedding.

The newly-weds greeted their guests at a reception held in the fellowship hall of the church before leaving on their wedding trip to Northern California. They are now making their first home in Berkeley.

Messages from members of the Swiss family where the bride lived for a year on an exchange program were received by the newly-weds during the reception.

Letters to the Editor

Ed. Note: The following letter and poem were received from Mrs. Clara Gregg, active member of the West Valley Senior Action Center:

Dear Sirs:

In this day of lurid headlines that make us hate to read the news, may I give to The Press and hope you give it space this poem that speaks for itself.

I received this poem from a man who has worked as an aid in the West Valley Senior Action Center, after we had been to a surprise farewell for him last Sunday, as he prepares to leave for the Philipines with his daughter.

The surprise was great as his neighbors, the people who had worked with him, the seniors from the West Valley Senior Action Center, all those who had known him while he lived in this area. (were present).

I think the poem speaks for itself. He wrote this after the party when he could not sleep. I believe that this is one of the most important things that a group like the West Valley Senior Action Center can do for each other.

Thank you for publishing this poem in your paper, that people may know there is still a lot of wholesome simple caring in the hearts of our people.

Sincerely,
Clara Gregg

I'm a man of sixty-seven-I'm short and fat and round.
My hair is gray, my shoulders stoop, my feet now scuff the ground.
I always was "that little-guy",
I knew not wealth nor fame
Heck–I'm the guy that swelled with pride, if someone recalled my name!

I went through life, I did my best–but–somehow deep inside-
I felt I hadn't done a thing, which I could point with pride.
That's how it was, the days went by, the weeks, the months, the years,
I knew both joy and sorrow, felt laughter and knew tears.

But today was like a gift from God; for none of you could know
Just what you did for the "Little - guy" or how you helped him grow.
I'm the RICHEST of the men of wealth..INSIDE..I'm ten feet tall.
If I should die tomorrow, I'd say to one and all -

"The greatest gift was given me...it came right near the end,
The...truth...that a man's a Men of Men...if he feels he has a FRIEND"!

With gratitude,
Francis W. Laundrie

Women can take college course in self-defense

A self defense class for women and a course in landscape design for the home are two of the most recent community education courses being offered by West Valley College this fall.

Initiated partially in response to the county's rising violent crime rate, the course in self defense is being taught by two San Jose Police sergeants who act as instructors of self defense for the San Jose Police Academy.

In ten weekly evening sessions beginning Oct. 9, the officers hope to cover fundamental concepts and practical techniques of basic self defense. The course, limited to women under 40 years of age, will include physical conditioning exercizes as well as actual practice in self defense techniques.

"Landscaping for the Home" will be taught each Tuesday evening beginning Oct. 7. Edward Zimbleman, a Los Gatos landscape designer with more than 20 years landscaping and nursery experience, will include grading, plant materials, sprinkler systems and cost considerations in his ten week presentation. The course is being offered in response to a survey of local community groups.

Registration for the courses open to the residents of West Valley Joint Junior College District on a first-come, first-served basis, will be accepted at the Office of Community Services, 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26.

UNUSUAL DONATION--After using a "ribbon" of dollar bills to officially open his new United Rent-All store, 1565 Winchester, Campbell, Bob Tellesen and his wife are shown on the left turning over the bills to Jim Schafer, manager of Colonial Savings and Loan, Campbell, and Campbell area chairman for the 1969 "Fair Share" Santa Clara County United Fund. Looking on is Miss Campbell, Karen Monahan.

United Fund business division drive begins here next Monday

Beginning next Monday (Oct. 6) the United Fund drive for the business division of Campbell will get under way, according to Jim Schafer, local manager of Colonial Savings and general business chairman.

Myron Alexander, Campbell realtor, will head a team of 31 civic and business leaders who will make personal contact with every small business in the Campbell area, Schafer said.

According to Alexander, the goal of his "team" is to double the amount of $1350 that was raised during the campaign last year.

Alexander has announced that team members, consisting of housewives, business leaders and school officials will meet at 10 a.m. Monday (Oct. 6) at the Eastfield Home for coffee and an informal discussion.

The drive will end on Friday, Oct. 10.

Alexander urges all Campbell area businessmen to be aware of the impending visitation for the once-a-year event.

"The folks who will be calling on you, in your stores and places of business," Alexander points out, "are all community leaders who care enough to take time off from their busy schedules to meet and chat with you. "Treat them as your very best customers," he adds, "for they are working hard to make Campbell a better place to live, raise a family and conduct a successful business."

United Fund of Santa Clara County supports more than 80 community services.

NROTC exam date set

The test date for the 24th annual national competitive NROTC examination has been set as Dec. 13, 1969. Parents and high school officials are reminded that eligible high school seniors and graduates interested, must submit their applications before Nov. 14, 1969.

The regular NROTC program offers an opportunity for a young man to gain a regular commission while studying at one of the many NROTC colleges and universities. The Navy furnishes tuition, fees, books and uniforms, plus a subsistence allowance of $50 per month to NROTC midshipmen.

Following college graduation, an NROTC midshipman is commissioned as a regular officer in the U. S. Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty with the operating forces.

The program is available to male high school seniors and graduates who will have reached their 17th but not 21st birthday by July 1, 1970.

1970 NROTC bulletins of information and application forms are available from local high school counselors, or the Navy Recruiting Office, 3381 Stevens Creek Blvd., San Jose.

WEST VALLEY COLLEGE

West Valley College will be entertaining teams in every sport this week with the highlight a Friday night water polo game pitting the Vikes against San Jose City College at the new Saratoga pool.

The footballers will host Cabrillo at Buck Shaw Stadium, the soccermen Diablo Valley at the Campbell campus, and the cross-countrymen will put on the West Valley Invitational meet.

WATER POLO

The Vikes play host to the Jags in a rare 8 p.m. polo contest. The cross-town rivals are closely matched teams in the 1969 campaign.

The two squads finished second and third behind the College of San Mateo two weeks ago at the Cabrillo Tourney. Each team defeated Modesto and San Joaquin Delta while losing to CSM.

FOOTBALL

West Valley College is one of a few junior college football teams in Northern California to have remained undefeated through their first two ballgames.

West Valley also has not been scored upon.

The Viking defensive unit will tackle a tough job Saturday night when Valley will challenge the Seahawks.

Dave Boreham, Mike Lombardo and Grant Mayfield were tough hitters from their linebacker posts in last week's 17-0 over San Jose City.

Bolstering the defensive attack will be tight ends Ron Semon and Mike Sharpe, lineman Pete Maiers and halfback Rich DeFelice. WVC's offense will depend on the passing of Bill Barnes and the running of workhorse back Dave Ray.

CROSS-COUNTRY

The Vikes dropped a tri-cross-country meet to DeAnza and Foothill last Friday. The race was won by the Dons with Owls taking the runner-up spot.

The final tally was 34-40-46 with the Vikes totaling the most points to accept defeat.

SOCCER

Soccer coach Dick Schwendinger, figures his Viking team will do well in the Western Junior College Soccer Conference-Valley at the Campbell field Friday at 3:30 p.m.

WVC brought in their first victory last Saturday with a 4-2 win over Pacific College of Fresno. Talip Bikul scored three and Mike Mullenberg one as they led the Valley offense with good passing and shooting.

Grinder converts rubbish to fertilizer in one easy step

If you've been worrying about what to do with your backyard rubbish as new, stricter burning regulations go into effect, here's an easy (and profitable) way to handle it. In a demonstration given by Alan Hitchcock of Hitchcock's Garden Tool and Supply on Camden Avenue off Winchester, garden rubbish proved to be a snap with a shredder-grinder, such as the W-W model shown accompanying this story.

Starting with a pile of leaves, tree prunings, bulb stalks, ivy branches and so on that stood over three feet high and nearly five feet deep, Hitchcock reduced the entire pile into a fertilizer-compost that easily fit into a small Wesson Oil carton.

For families with large gardens or who have trees to prune, the shredder-grinders make quick work of converting the clippings into a compact form. They can then be used for fertilizer, garden mulching or easily hauled away in the trunk of the average family car.

The shredder-grinders come in a number of sizes, Hitchcock said, although even the smallest one is capable of completely grinding and shredding practically every type of garden rubbish up to anything you can cut with the average hand pruner.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

In recent years three constitutional amendments have been passed by Congress, approved by ¾ of the State Legislatures, and are now part of our Constitution. The 23rd Amendment provides that residents of the District of Columbia can vote for President and Vice President.

The 24th abolished the poll tax in elections for federal officers and the 25th provides a means under which the responsibilities of the presidency can be carried out by others in cases of presidential disability.

A couple of weeks ago the House started another constitutional amendment on its way. Once the Senate and ¾ of all State Legislatures approve it, the antiquated electoral college will be abolished and we will have direct election of our President.

The House action marked the first time that either House of Congress has ever considered direct election of the President. Only twice since 1804 had the House even considered reform of the electoral college. Both times, in 1826 and 1950, they decided against change.

But the scare of the last election when George Wallace made sizeable inroads into both Democratic and Republican votes and almost threw the election into the House of Representatives was the basis for the congressional change of heart. Recognizing the possibilities for wheeling and dealing and behind the scenes compromises, the House overwhelmingly supported the constitutional amendment abolishing the electoral college.

Twice in our history, 1800 and 1824, the House had decided an election where no candidate had received a majority of the electoral votes. On numerous other occasions, electors cast their votes for someone who wasn't even on the ballot.

Three times, in 1824, 1876 and 1888, the electoral system declared the loser in a popular vote as the victor. In 1824 Andrew Jackson won a plurality of both the popular and electoral vote, but was eliminated when the House accepted a deal whereby John Quincy Adams became President and his opponent Henry Clay became Secretary of State.

In addition to abolishing the electoral college, the amendment will provide for a run-off if no candidate receives 40% of the vote. It will also allow Congress to establish residence qualifications so that persons who move will be assured of the right to vote for a President. Congress will also be empowered to insist that every major candidate be given a place on the ballot of every state. And it may also act to decide what should be done in the case of death, inability, or withdrawal of a candidate for President or Vice President before the election.

Unfortunately this new amendment will not become effective in time for the 1972 election. The Resolution passed by the House must be ratified by January 20, 1971, to be effective for 1972. This is insufficient time for 37 legislatures to act favorably. But if the Senate follows the House lead, Americans will at least know that by 1976 the outmoded, unfair, and somewhat ridiculous method by which we have elected our Presidents will be a thing of the past.

Gilson®

make low cost natural fertilizer and mulch the easy way

Organic gardening is one of the most economical and productive ways to grow flowers and vegetables. And Gilson Shredder-Grinders make it extra rewarding. Fine shredding action turns clippings, vegetable tops, leaves, and other garden waste into quick-decaying compost or organic matter to till into your soil. Make coarse or fine mulch, too.

These Gilsons have rugged, dependable Briggs & Stratton engines. They're compact, roll easily around your yard. And all models have surprising capacity for their size, plenty of stamina to take hard use.

With the new stricter backyard rubbish burning regulations in effect, why not eliminate this fire hazard in your own backyard by converting your leaves and rubbish into valuable compost for your gardens and flower beds. The Gilson Shredder-Grinder makes quick work of your rubbish pile, no matter how big it is. Best of all, you get natural organic plant food instead of a fire hazard.
